Intramural Assistant – Operations & Communications

Position Title

- UBC Recreation Intramural Assistant
League Sports – Operations & Communications

Position Summary

Under the direction of the UBC Recreation Intramural Program Manager, the Intramural Assistant, League Sports – Operations & Communications is responsible for assisting in development, delivery, evaluation and maintaining the day-to-day operations of the UBC Intramural League Sport program.

The 2021-22 Intramural League Sport Program operates from August through April, including regular evening and weekends. League programming will include up to 7 unique sports operating out of multiple venues across campus managed and supported by 40+ student staff administrators and 100+ game officials.

In addition to duties pertaining to Intramural League Sports, the incumbent should expect to work with/alongside other UBC Recreation professional staff and be assigned responsibilities associated but not limited to; Day of the LongBoat, Great Trek, UBC Triathlon and Storm the Wall.

This position will work closely, and at times provide direct supervision to Intramural student staff administrators.

Work Performed

General

The position is expected to have a highly regular interaction with league officials and participants. Supporting this, it will be required that the incumbent work closely with both professional and student staff through formal and informal settings.

The position is expected to be present as per assigned responsibilities and take part in:

- Regular weekly meetings with Intramural Program Manager & student administrative staff
- As required, scheduled staff/committee meetings
- All retreat, orientation, training sessions, banquets & award ceremonies
- On-site league delivery – including evenings and weekends
- The delivery of exceptional participant experience to program participants

League Programming

The position will provide assistance, and at times direct oversight in aspects pertaining to the development, delivery and evaluation of league schedules and officials' operations including, but not limited to;

- Developing, implementation, monitoring, and evaluation of departmental policy and procedures
- Implementing change related to statistical and program data.
- Preparation of annual budgets

The position is expected to have a regular physical (on-campus) presence during league operations including weekend and evening work.

Supervision Received

The Intramural Assistant position reports directly to the Intramural Program Manager and as well should expect to work very closely with and receive direction from all professional staff within UBC Recreation Intramurals. When required the incumbent will be expected to work with other members of the UBC Athletic and Recreation department, University Staff, external vendors and members of the community. This position works both independently and in a team environment. The work performed is under a designated set of program, department and university policies and procedures and when required, it is expected that the employee defer to a supervisor when judgment or decision-making falls outside of these parameters.

Consequence of Error/Judgement

Intramural Staff are expected to conduct themselves and execute their designated projects and /or assignments in a respectful, timely and supportive way. Failure to deliver this in a manner that meets these standards may impact negatively on access to services, jeopardize students' well-being, and result in increased risk to the University. Errors or incorrect decisions could result in direct costs, lost opportunities, impacts or delays for students, staff, faculty and the public. Damage to the department and to the University's reputation may occur if the incumbent does not conduct themselves or their responsibilities in the expected manner.
